As a wine enthusiast, discovering a hidden gem within a collector's cellar, forgotten even by its owner, is an experience that dreams are made of. Recently, we were granted the privilege of inspecting an extensive collection of a renowned connoisseur, a cellar so vast that even if he hosted the most lavish parties, he couldn't possibly uncork all its treasures within the next three decades.

We began our exploration with an impressive array of vintage Champagnes and Bordeaux wines, ranging from the 1950s to the late 1980s. The collector's acquisitions had been paused in the 1990s but resumed in the 2000s. The first revelation was a substantial collection of Château Mouton Rothschild 1986, which I personally favored over its 1982 counterpart, despite the latter being a legendary wine in everyone's heart. The 1986 vintage exhibited greater power and dedication, with the potential for a longer life at its peak. Savoring mature Bordeaux that has been cellared for over 40 years is always a pleasure, as the extra depth of dried fruit and herbs created by maturation is simply irresistible. We also encountered rare treasures, such as an ex-château Latour double magnum set nestled in a giant round wooden case, more exquisite than most furniture, a Pavie 100-point set, and the Léoville Las Cases Grand Vin de Léoville de 9 collection.

Stepping into the Burgundy room was a moment of pure delight, with meticulously arranged bottles of Domaine Georges Roumier Musigny from various vintages taking center stage. The clean, classic color labels seemed to perfectly showcase the purity of the wine within. Racks upon racks of Domaine de la Romanée-Conti followed, predominantly from exceptional years like 1990, 1999, and 2002, as well as the eternally revered Henri Mayer, which evoked memories of curating the Heritage ex-Henri Mayer domaine sale in 2018. Our eyes then fell upon a majestic 3-liter bottle of Domaine de la Romanée-Conti. When we inquired about the possibility of consignment, the owner casually mentioned that he had a few more bottles of Romanée-Conti and La Tâche, should we be interested.

A spacious, dedicated room was solely devoted to Penfolds Grange, a testament to the owner's deep-rooted passion for this iconic Australian wine. His enthusiasm for the history and uniqueness of Penfolds Grange was evident not only through his comprehensive collection but also through his profound appreciation and knowledge. Penfolds Grange was initially known as Penfolds Grange Hermitage until the 1989 vintage, a name that paid homage to the origin of its vines from Hermitage. The blend is predominantly composed of Syrah/Shiraz and a smaller proportion of Cabernet Sauvignon. The inaugural 1951 vintage, masterfully crafted by the legendary Max Schubert, yielded a mere 1,800 bottles. Grange briefly vanished from the market between 1957 and 1959 due to negative wine critics comments. However, Schubert, undeterred by management's prohibition, secretly continued to produce this magnificent Grange. Official production and sales resumed in 1960, and the 1955 vintage that were negatively criticized, entered into a worldwide competition in 1962, garnered an astonishing 50 gold medals in the years that followed. The 1971 vintage triumphantly claimed first prize in the Shiraz category at the prestigious Wine Olympics held in Paris.

Although many are acquainted with the term «Bin» as a storage location and a naming convention used by Penfolds and numerous Australian wineries, few are aware that the 1951 vintage was initially labeled as «Bin 1,» the 1952 as «Bin 4,» and subsequent vintages bore different bin designations until «Bin 95» was adopted from 1964 onward. Schubert retired in 1975, entrusting the stewardship to Don Ditter, whose 1976 vintage was rewarded with a perfect 100-point score from the esteemed Robert Parker before Ditter's retirement in 1986. John Duval further raised the bar for consistent excellence, earning the prestigious International Winemaker of the Year accolade in 1989 before his own retirement in 2002. The 1990 vintage was a landmark year, not only as an exceptional global vintage across the board but also as the introduction of the «Grange» label, a change necessitated by the European Union's ruling on appellation laws. Peter Gago has been at the helm as chief winemaker since 2002 and the 2008 vintage became the first to receive perfect 100-point scores from both Wine Spectator and Wine Advocate.

The collector's most prized possession was a collection featuring handwritten signatures on the labels from each respective winemaker, encompassing vintages from 1951 to 2010, including the elusive and coveted 1951 vintage – a true museum piece that encapsulates the enchanting history of Grange. Standing before this collection, I felt a sense of awe akin to being in the presence of Michelangelo's masterpiece, the David. This collection is the last known to include the 1951 vintage, as Penfolds will be unable to release any more. The opportunity to hold a physical bottle of the 1951 Grange is a rare honor bestowed upon a fortunate few. I found myself glancing at my watch, wishing to suspend time. Who has the luck to drink this 51?

This cellar is a veritable paradise for the traditional wine lover, boasting a diverse array of regions, from the sparkling heights of Champagne like Dom Perignon White Gold 3L to mature Bordeaux, crowned Burgundy, the iconic Grange, and also the warrior whiskies. The complete Port Ellen annual release collection, spanning from the 1st to the 17th edition, is a gem in its own right. The subtle style of Port Ellen never fails to leave a lasting impression on both the palate and the soul.

Just as we were about to depart, the collector suddenly remembered some La Tâche that had escaped his mind for few years, and he was eager to open a bottle for us to experience. In an attempt to conceal my enthusiasm and curiosity regarding the performance of a low-fill bottle, I selected one with a 5-centimeter ullage. Unable to resist the temptation, I postponed my departure to partake in this vinous treasure, especially since it was from my birth year. As we savored the wine, it became apparent that providence was on our side. The low-fill bottle astounded us all with its quality. Will you take the same decision as mine?

online live bidding

Place your bids in real time through our online live bidding platform. Please register ahead of the date and connect to www.bagherawines.com on the day of the sale and follow the guide. B/Live, Baghera/wines' live auction platform, will relay your bids and give you the opportunity to live the sale as if you were attending it in person. Feel the atmosphere in the room, follow the auction's excitement and place your bids at your convenience – your bids will be instantly relayed to the auctioneer.

B/Live is accessible from computers and mobile devices, all you need is to ensure that your connection is sufficient to support live video streaming. If not, you will still be able to bid live (without the video) as the current bid and next increment will be visible on the screen.

You will need to register at least 48h prior to the sale on www.bagherawines.com to ensure registration is complete before the sale, and confirmed. You will be able to enter the sale and place your bids at your convenience. Please note that credit controls apply on these bids.

absentee bids

Leave your absentee bids ahead of the sale on our website and online-catalogue. Connect to www.bagherawines.com. You will need to register at least 48h prior to the sale on www.bagherawines.com to ensure registration is complete and your absentee bids are confirmed.

You may also give Baghera/wines instructions to bid on your behalf by writing to office@bagherawines.com. Our staff members will then try to purchase the lot(s) of your choice for the lower price possible. Please note this service is free, totally confidential and offered as a convenience to clients. Although our representative will make every effort, Baghera/wines will not be responsible for error or failure to execute bids.

collection

Lots will be made available for collection or shipping from July 10th, 2024.

buyer's premium

The maximum bid price that you provide during your bidding process is the hammer price only. If you are successful on a lot, a buyer's premium of 22% will be added to the hammer price for each lot you buy. The successful bidder is responsible for any VAT that may arise on the hammer price and the buyer's premium. VAT charges and refunds depend on the particular circumstances of the buyer. It is the buyer's responsibility to ascertain and pay all taxes due. VAT is payable on the buyer's premium and, for some lots, VAT is payable on the hammer price. In all circumstances Swiss law takes precedence.

Successful bidders will be notified and invoiced within a few days after the sale.
